“ Gary will be missed. He was an authority on the neighborhood history. He was a friend to every person and all the birds and animals in the area. He knew all the species of birds that frequented the area. He was an expert on fine wines and an amazing cook. He and Rick were great friends and he always had time to talk and share words of comfort after he passed. I imagine that he and Rick are on the next plane and listening to the best music ever.
