“ I'm Laura's first cousin. We didn't know each other most of our lives, but she tracked me down through Ancestry a few years ago. After that, we were in touch on email and had a Zoom with Laura and Chuck. We had even planned to visit them on a trip to northern California, but my wife broke her wrist and we had to cancel. She had offered for us to stay with them, which was really nice. Our condolences to Chuck and their son.
