“ Oh, Tim, you left us too soon. We will miss you enormously; your smile, your Candy Crush help, watching the house when we travel, and kibitzing on Oregon games. Keep the faith and we'll meet again.

“ I still can't believe Tim is gone! He was my little cousin and I will always remember our summers spent at his grandma and grandpa's beautiful mountain house in Scappoose, Oregon. Tim was just a little guy and felt like the only "little brother" I ever had. He loved his "cheebooga and frenfries" from Burgerville! Then he grew up and met the love of his life, Liz and I was honored to have attended their wedding. My heart is breaking for you Liz. I hope Tim is listening to bluegrass music with Uncle Mike, while laughing with his mom and hugging his beloved dog on the beach. Fly high cousin! You will be missed.

“ Best camping trip ever. Fireworks at Pacific City. Fireworks being popped off everywhere. State trooper coming towards us driving Beach safety. Nate told him we have illegal Fireworks. Nate was probably 7 or so. Cop just smiled and tried not to laugh. He told Nate that he should wait until he drives away before setting them off and to be safe and listen to his parents. I remember Tim grabbing Nate and putting his hand over his mouth as he was saying this. When Jayke was a baby he was watching wrestling one night and had Jayke on his lap. He was showing him how to swing his hands back and forth and how to talk. After a bit Jayke marked his territory by spitting up on him as I hear Houston we have a problem.

“ I met Tim in art school, he was always kind and giving, he was always there to listen or to help out when needed. He took me to the Japanese Garden, the Hillsboro library, downtown Beaverton water fountain just to help me figure out how to do water photography. He helped me take head shots of myself and my daughter, he let me shadow him for a wedding for a school project and worked with me on my lighting in his home. Tim never asked for anything in return, he was a gentle giant, he had a great sense of humor and he LOVED his wife Liz more than anything in this world. He will be missed by many. Rest easy Tim, may you be at peace and happy in your resting place. And Thank you for always cheering me on in photography, I will do my best to get better and better and continue on.

“ Tim was always friendly (well, except for that time he tried to throw me out of the boat just before their wedding...) and was willing to help out however needed. I lost track of the number of times he chauffeured me to or from PDX at all hours. When he was working at PDX, I would look for him as I departed or arrived and stop to chat for a few minutes if he had time. I loved having him there to welcome me back to town. He had good stories to tell, and you knew what he was passionate about. He had a great sense of humor. I am glad that I had the opportunity to know him. He will be missed.
